Procurement of Twin Otter for Cayman Airways

The PPC received an urgent request from Fabian Whorms, the CEO of Cayman Airways on August 4th 2023, concerning a Direct Award Application for the procurement of a Twin Otter Aircraft, after a competitive process was conducted but was unsuccessful.

He stated that CAL would not be able to wait for the upcoming PPC Meeting on September 7th, because this acquisition was urgently needed to maintain reliable travel to and from Little Cayman.

The PPC requested further information from CAL, such as the currency of the valuation and a breakdown of the cost of the aircraft to include any additional equipment and maintenance.

Mr. Whorms stated that the currency was in USD, and that the cost offered to CAL was slightly lower than the evaluation because the aircraft had been on the market for a considerable time and that it represented value for money. The cost of the aircraft included 'maintenance condition', which is, the time remaining before major maintenance is required, and also the installation of an upgraded cockpit.

The PPC voted unanimously by round robin and recommended the submission.
